PHOTOGRAPHIC RECORD OF WITHERLEY

May 2007

5 Church Road has been unsympathetically extended to provide an integral garage and 1st floor extension. The bricks are a poor match to the main dwelling, the new window is out of scale and the metal garage door could be improved if constructed in timber

The visual impact of the picket fence on Church Road would be reduced if it was painted in a darker colour

The Blue Lion Pub is an excellent listed property on Church Road

The parking area fronting the Blue Lion pub is delineated by granite kerbs and surfaced with granite and pebbles

The brick walls are important features on Church Road

The air conditioning unit on the side of the sports club pavilion is a conspicuous unattractive feature on Church Road

Timber fence needs replacing with brick wall similar in design and type of brick utilized in the existing wall

The roof lights on this property are an unsympathetic feature viewed from Church Road

4 – 12 Hall Lane, terrace of five cottages with interesting surfacing design fronting the properties

The rear elevation of 4 – 12 Hall Lane is unusual comprising five gable ends

A brick wall fronting 2 Hall Lane would visually improve the road junction and access to Witherley Hall

The large gate piers and blue brick wall at the entrance to Witherley Hall are an impressive feature in the conservation area. There are a number of features in Witherley that once formed part of the Witherley Hall Estate
